

Metropolitan Principals' Academy Extended Learning Opportunity 2011-2012

Teaching with Poverty in Mind

with Eric Jensen

January 24, 2012

8:00 AM — 2:00 PM

Eric Jensen — brought back
by members request.

This session is intended for leaders and teacher teams. Jensen will present connections between recent brain research and low-income student achievement. He will suggest effective strategies and ways to replicate those best practices in your school:

- how to focus on startling connections between recent brain research and low-income student achievement,
- examine five secrets to high performing schools,
- gain strategies to increase student engagement, learning and achievement.

What people are saying about Eric Jensen

Have Eric Jensen return 3-4 times to enable us to get to a deeper level of understanding.

The brain can change. That means we can make a difference.

Teach with working memory in mind.

Wow!
One of the best MPA presentations ever!

Very good information - realistic, practical, great explanation of brain work.
